Utah's High Adventure Mountain Film Festival Brings World to Ogden

OGDEN, UT – Utah's High Adventure Mountain Film Festival gears up September 18-21, 2008.

The festival will be held in the heart of the High Adventure Capital of the Intermountain West at the historic Peery's Egyptian Theater and the David Eccles Conference Center in downtown Ogden, Utah.

This four-day gala event includes thrilling films, panel discussions and award ceremonies that promote the spirit of high mountain adventure sports in a picturesque, active mountain town.

"Ogden Climbing Parks is excited to host this international event," said Jeff Lowe, Executive Director of Ogden Climbing Parks. "This festival will attract world renowned climbers and high adventure sports enthusiasts from around the world."

Sponsored and presented by Ogden Climbing Parks, the film festival will highlight the best of mountain films and will screen new releases and the winners of many of the world's major mountain film festivals. The festival features films, panel discussions, and parties throughout the weekend.

Utah's High Adventure Mountain Film Festival 2008 is being sponsored by some of the biggest names in Ogden including: Bandana Ranch Video Productions, Cassar Jewelers, Utah Sports Medicine and Orthopedic Center, Amer Sports, Kuhl Clothing, Petzl, Zion's Bank, Jasoh!, Power Media Group and many more.

Utah's High Adventure Mountain Film Festival 2008 is part of Utah's High Adventure Festival, which include both the annual fall film festival and an annual Mountain Adventure Arts, Literature and Environment Festival (Climbfest) each spring.

The film festival is the creation of Deanna Byck, Sc. D., of Ogden Climbing Parks and Jeff Lowe, a world-class climber and visionary, whose goal is to bring the world of mountain adventure to the community.
